Reiff rode a bad race, allowing himself to be shut off on the far turn, and then finishing second to Golden Valley, a 30 to 1 shot. Truepenny was the next favorite to fail. The fourth race furnished another big upset. Sirocco was the favorite. Two days before, with 130 pounds up, he beat Hugh Penny over six furlongs in 1.15. Saturday be had 125 pounds up, and the talent grabbed the 1 to 2 that was offered at first, sending him to the post at 1 to 3. The story is easily told. Mike Bersen kept Stonenellie in front all the way and won in 1.16 1-4. The last favorite to be beaten was My Gyps. The two winning favorites were Dr. Garnett in the first and St. Anthony in the jumping race, but as the talent don't care to plungs on the timber-toppers they quit a heavy loser. race, allowing himself to be shut off on

BASEBALL CHAT.

How fortunate it was that the Sabbati intervened after that deliciously exciting game on the Polo Grounds Saturday, when the Giants, who apparently hadn't a chance on earth, skipped into the game Throbbing brows and paintating hearts are in a position to look back already the man up, too, mind you, when those four runs that won the game were piled in, in the ever-increasing darkness. The fact is, that the past week at the Polo Grounds was the most feverish one ever experienced there by the ball cranks. The three games with Boston, and the second game with Brooklyn Saturday, furnished more baseball to the square inch than has ever been served up in the memory of the oldest rooter in the metropolis. Nobody can cast any doubts now that New York isn't baseball mad. It is bound to be worse, too, for the Giants have a mighty good chance to skin away with the pennant. Laugh at that if you will, but ten days hence will come pretty close to demonstrating that New York cannot be ignored when chances on the pennant are being calculated. Squally times are shead of the Giants. To-day at the Polo Grounds, winds up the series with Brooklyn. The Giants have won seven in eleven games. It looks easy for eight in twelve. To-morrow the New Yorks will play the Senators in Washington, and as this club has a unique faculty of beating the Bostons occasionally, our boys will be obliged to get in the game and stay there all the time they are in Washington. The Senators have managed to win one game in nine played with New York, so it isn't too much to expect that we get away with two in this series of three. very often. Not so often, they did right here in New straight—but the Giants wil to ''play the limit'' to get two games.

The special pole vault event at the New Jersey Athletic Club's Olympiad, to be held on Labor Day, is causing a great deal of comment, as H. H. H. Haxter captain of the New York A. While training at Travers Island last week he strained the Achilles tendrou, which occasioned his retirement some time ago. He will, however, take two weeks rest before resuming further training in hopes that the strained leg will come around all right in time to make his attempt on the record.

Those who talk by the card, like District-Attorney Ridgway, of Brooklyn,

Smyth said to-day:

"Judge Fitzgerald and I held a consultation this morning, and we have decided not to try any ball case until the prison cases are all disposed of. There are 273 men and women in the Tombs awaiting trial. It is a great hardship and is a preliminary punishment which the law does not contemplate."

As Recorder Smyth and Judge Fitzgerald are the only criminal judges sitting this month, this would seem to determine without the ald of Mr. Wellman or the District - Attorney's office that Policeman Levy will not be retried this week, as Mr Wellman proposed, nor this month. When the Recorder spoke, Levy's friends were arranging bail for him in the District-Attorney's office.

The Recorder was highly indignant that prisoners in the Tombs should have been allowed to increase to this number. Some were charged with misdemeanors, for which the pusishment on conviction would be only a year at the furthest, and they have been lying in the Tombs unrived six to ten months.

It was intimated by Recorder Smyth that he might hold daily sessions of his court till 6 o'clock in order to dispose of imprisoned defendants.

At 3.45 this afternoon Policeman Levy this was admitted to ball by Recorder Smyth in the sum fixed by Judge Martine, $7,500. All Democrats should have representation, Let those who claim to be in the majority prove it. If they have the votes they can easily carry the primaries. This is not a threat, it is a fair proposition. The minority should not attempt to break into the organization like burgiars in the night. Candidates should not be asked to step aside merely because some other fellows want the nominations. Let the majority rule, I say, and after having made a fight and lost, let those who have been fairly beaten submit. That is Democracy; that is the only way to secure harmony."

It must be remembered that Mr. Ridgway was in Washington recently and talked with Senator Hill. There is a great similarity between Senator Murphy's declaration of principle and Mr. Ridgway's views, which gives ground for belief that they were inspired by Hill.
